

A VISIT FROM MY FATHER

— AND THE CHANGE —

By Wayne Bent
Posted July 29, 2024

The Father visited me in the night last night. It was a very sweet time. It was as though my heavenly Father came and sat on the edge of my bed and visited me about my troubled heart the whole night. This reminded me of the time when someone said, "Father is coming." I had been deeply troubled over the great wickedness in the world. The world is in astonishing confusion. It was so heavy a weight that I could not even visit with anyone but I had to remain alone. I prayed continually about it, seeking deliverance from the present reality of the dark world. So I was visited by the Great Father and the issues were explained to me in a way that removed my burdens. The truth itself that Father brought to me delivered me from the false notion and charges that the demonic forces put out continually against Him and His children. Satanic forces work hard to bring everyone into the slavery of force and make-believe.

But our heavenly Father continually works to provide help to the masses of people all over the world in their distress. His work always seeks to rain on the just and the unjust also with His many helps and benefits. He is not troubled by the faults and failings of the people. He is not threatened by the sinners, for all men are sinners. The Father even helps His enemies and rains on their crops also but it is not appreciated by them.

The suffering of the earth is caused by the rejection of Father's present instructions to them. The people harden their hearts against Him and those hardened hearts are what cause their misery. God cannot be blamed for what men do to themselves for He has given mankind the power to decide. Every pang is caused by the very conscious choice to harden the heart when the Father has moved upon them. They refuse to yield to the heavenly Creator even for their best good.

The Father leaves nothing undone to help the people take hold of the light and save themselves a basket of trouble. His laws are designed to save people from the effects of the sin that rules over them. When a soul responds and obeys the rule of God, which is His Voice to them, they are then on the path which will bring the best circumstances for their character development so that they might appreciate the place made for them in heaven.

The sufferings of the effects of the soul's faults and failings will actually work to remove the cause of misery from them. They will find through these things the death to self, as it is in the Son when He died to His Own glory and omniscience when He took on a human body to deliver us from our self. He came in a human form just like us, and without any advantages, so that He might make a way for us if we receive His Life into ourselves instead of resisting that Life. This, then, is when we are recreated into the image of God. We become the sons of God again, as we were in the Garden of Eden.

Heaven, or the kingdom, is not a long way off. It is very near to everyone. The suffering of Yeshua, and my own sorrows, come because the Spirit of the Father is in us, and that Spirit is sensitive to the needs of the human family, and the animals also. It hurts the sensitive heart to see others hurt themselves by the effects of their choices. It hurts to bear the sins of the world just as Yeshua had to do.

God is there for everyone if their hearts are not determined to resist His approaches to them. The Father is not looking to find fault in anyone. When the people find fault in God's instructions, they then find fault in themselves, projecting that fault onto others. This is the cause of war and other fighting and arguing between the members of the human family.

There are those who fault God for the misery on earth, saying that He is causing it, or at least allowing it. They must go into debt because they believe that there is not enough provision in the moment. They go to war believing some enemy is coming to take something away from them. But if He stopped allowing evil by destroying evil, there would not be a single, solitary human being remaining on the planet, for all have sinned against the Voice of the Creator. Not one soul is innocent of their own offenses. People are evil in every religion and party. Self-righteousness is in all of the bundles they have made themselves for the burning.

The Father only sets out to put the souls of men on His path, through His caring instructions to them. If they step on the path, they are on the path of their redemption by the power of the Holy Spirit of the Father. If they do not step on the path, they are only in the land of their own self-destruction, imagination, confusion and lostness, unable to find where they are going or even know where they have been. They will suffer many grievous offenses and difficulties, only because of their own choices and their own judgments. There are consequences for making wrong choices, or imagining evil thoughts, because there is a basic truth in the universe named "cause and effect."

Every evil, in some way, is brought on by the creative force and environment of one's own heart. This is true even for the young. If a young child has the evil spirit of force and offense, there will be consequences for that, just as there would be for daddy or mommy. This creative force is as sure as gravity and as dependable as the sunrise. This reality is even seen in those who run for election. The nation is now divided and unfixable, because of division and hypocrisy of their own hearts. God did not do that to them. They did it all by themselves, and then they blame others for how they feel. I cannot blame others for how I feel. They do not have the ability or authority to create my feelings. The human soul does that to himself, with the help of the dark forces, in the realm of the spirit within their own soul, that encourages those negative thoughts and feelings by his own personal agreement with them.

In these days, the dark forces are so determined and set, that the souls who possess the Spirit of the Father must go away from them and leave them in the flames of their own creation and their own complaints. This is the change that now has come upon the world. If the Spirit that possesses us, because of our change, is not appreciated, then we must ascend and leave the darkness behind us. We are on the path of "forever approaching unto God." We continually follow His instructions, while the resistance of the dark world below only guarantees the presence of the lake of fire which will devour all who hate the light. Their fire is in the midst of themselves. This fire burns in all of the religious denominations and political parties. In these days it is like fire in the stubble that is pushed on by a strong wind. Everyone is demanding the victory for their own side. They bind themselves into their own bundles tightly bound up so that not one part of it can escape.

But I have visited with the heart of my Father last night. He is finally giving mankind the desire of their own hearts without working to interfere with their self-destruction. He is painfully allowing them to take pleasure in their own destruction, for those who hate my Father, love death, and they pride themselves in their death for some self-righteous cause. The battle of Armageddon is their great hope. They believe that it is their great final victory.

But the change in God's sons has caused us to ascend by the great desire for the next world, greater than anything we could possibly want in the dark world below. We always hear the words, "Come up hither." Our Father continually sings His songs to us and we are changed, in a moment, in the blink of an eye. We translate into the heavens, in the heaven we live in, without dying physically. We witness the mysteries of God's righteousness, for when on the path, He accounts us righteous and if we follow the Spirit, we are declared as righteous as He is. If we hardened our heart against Him, we would quickly translate back into the dark world below for our righteousness is only of Him.

So now we have arrived to the end of days. We have come to the time of change. We need not argue with evil forces for we have dismissed ourselves from them. The howling and noise is not on the path that we ascend on. We only hear it afar off the path, from the dark pit that seems bottomless, for there is no end to it. No matter who they make into their leader, or what war they fight, there is no bottom to it. There is no end to the complaints. It is their everlasting hellfire that never ends. But as the sons of God ascend, those complaints get more distant and the sounds of them fade away. We do not carry their burden anymore. We cannot sympathize with their hardness of heart. They can stay in the dark world of their accusations against us and others, and only apply those charges to themselves now, because no one is listening, not even their own foes care what they think.

I have swung over the abyss with a great cord that reached out of heaven and appeared before me. I went to the other side now. There the grass is green and I may eat of the fruit of all the trees. The river of life continually flows out of the mountain. I cannot be distracted by the sounds that come from the other side of the abyss. They are too far away to hear any longer. Blessed be the Father, Who gives good gifts to those who have been adopted into Himself. Yes, His Own life has been freely given to those who do not resist.

I have been accused of many crimes as Yeshua was accused. But I have followed my Father's instructions to the letter and so my accusers, including Satan, only accuse me for the darkness and lawlessness of their own souls. They blame me for their own faults and failings just as they have blamed my Father for some offense that comes out of their own dark world and blaming Him for their own sufferings that they made themselves. They crucified me from the blame of their own sins. This is just as it was when Yeshua was crucified. It was the human sins of his accusers who found fault in him just as they did with me. Yeshua answered their charges, not by destroying them, but by leaving them behind to destroy themselves, and this occurred in 70 A.D. Nine years later a Roman city received payback when Pompeii was delivered to the flames with nothing remaining.

None of the sons of God were in Jerusalem or Pompeii when the final fire fell upon them, for they departed the dark world below before their destruction. And so it is again now. Our patient, gracious Father has removed our hearts from the wars and debts of this fallen age. He has taken us away from the world of self-defense, self-love and self-worship and delivered us into the kingdom of His dear Son. In this kingdom, we are ascending into the heavens. Without offense we journey to the next world bringing on the completion of the Great Controversy between Christ and His adversary.